

My Goals

1. Why, do I want to learn this Web Development?

What does it mean to you?

Web Development is one of the few things that I find most interesting and that intrigues me to learn regularly.

What are your motivations?

I am motivated to learn it because I can visualise a great career ahead of me in this field.

Will you prove something to yourself or people around you?

I will prove to everyone who said that after my Tenth grade, I had become complacent and did not value money and time.

Will you get a raise because you're better at your job or will you get a better job?

I will certainly get a kickstart to a great career and earn a hefty amount as salary and side income.

2. What will I achieve if I learn this skill?

Which doors will this skill open for you?

This skill will open a few very appealing doors for me as it will help me in getting a developer job and will also help me in getting freelancing work.

Will you be able to earn more, have more flexibility in your work hours, work remotely and travel more?

I will be able to earn more and can work remotely and pursue other technology related skills and of course have time for myself.

3. How will this skill change my life and my career?

Would you get a raise at your current job or more respect from your boss once you've learnt this skill?

I will certainly have a plus point in my resume that may appeal a recruiter a bit more and I will be at Facebook, Amazon, or Google instead.

How would your life change?

Life will change drastically and be easier on the financial aspect.

4. How will learning this skill impact the lives of my family, friends and co-workers?

What will you be able to do for your family or friends once you've learnt this skill?

I will be able to help my mother 'Mummy' as she has had a lot of limitations to her life. Real friends who matter will stay the same as friendship does not need money to enjoy but will certainly acknowledge my work.

How will it change the way they think of you?

Many PEOPLE will have a regret on why they left my side.

5. How will I feel if I never accomplish this?

Would you feel disappointed?

I will certainly be disappointed if I will not accomplish mastery in this as I have devoted a lot of interest and time in this.

Would you feel like you've missed out?

Surely, will feel like I've missed out on a great skill.

6. What would my life look like if I manage to accomplish this?

What would life look like from the moment you wake up to the time you go to sleep?

Life will be a LOT more fun and luxurious.

Will you be living by the sea?

I will live by living at my dream destination.

Would you kiss your beautiful wife/husband when you wake up?

This is a question to conquer with.
